Department of Education and Training

(1)-(2) An interrogation of the financial database revealed numerous payments to organisations that include the word club or association in the name. It is unlikely that membership costs would have been incurred unless it was directly related to the official duties of any officer concerned. There are known circumstances where a corporate membership is undertaken to source current data or developments in a particular field or profession.

If the member could be more specific I will arrange for the financial records to be further searched.
