

DISABILITY SERVICES COMMISSION — INTENSIVE FAMILY SUPPORT STRATEGY

475. Hon DONNA FARAGHER to the parliamentary secretary representing the Minister for Disability Services:

I refer to the evaluation of the Disability Services Commission's intensive family support strategy. Will the minister table a copy of the evaluation; and, if not, why not?

Hon SALLY TALBOT replied:

On behalf of the responsible parliamentary secretary, I thank Hon Donna Faragher for some notice of this question, to which the Minister for Disability Services has provided the following response —

The minister anticipates that the evaluation of the Disability Services Commission's intensive family support program will be made publicly available by the commission in June 2008. The commission is currently preparing a response to the issues identified in the evaluation report. This response will form the basis of joint work with the disability sector for the future development of the commission's support for families and carers.
