

DEPARTMENT OF ABORIGINAL AFFAIRS — STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK 2012–2014

755. Hon SALLY TALBOT to the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs:

I refer to the Department of Aboriginal Affairs' community development strategic framework for 2012–14 and specifically the projects listed under the headings "Expand capacity building programs for families and individuals", "Facilitate governance and leadership training through partnerships and joint ventures" and "Expand reconciliation programs in schools and workplaces". What programs has the government delivered on youth diversionary programs and school attendance in line with the strategic framework 2012 target dates, and on family violence in line with the 2013 target dates?

Hon PETER COLLIER replied:

I thank the member for some notice of this question.

The response is in tabular form, so I table the information and seek leave to have it incorporated into Hansard.

Leave granted. [See paper 924.]

The following material was incorporated —

Target Area	Funding	Program	Description
Youth Diversionary	$300,000	Noongah Youth Diversionary Program (NYDP)	The Aboriginal Affairs Coordinating Committee (AACC) has allocated through DAA funding to develop the NYDP to address the over representation of Noongar youth in the justice system.
School Attendance	$100,000	Wunan Foundation Incorporated – Dural Education Excellence Program	The boarding school program enables Year 7 students from Halls Creek to attend a number of high schools in the Sydney suburb of Dural.
	$50,000	Community Development Foundation – Schools Passport program	This program aims to improve the school attendance of Aboriginal students at the Halls Creek District High School through increased parental engagement in the education of their children.
	$37,400	Caversham Training and Education Centre (CTEC)	CTEC provides a client sensitive learning environment for Aboriginal students and an alternative to mainstream education through the delivery of training programs that incorporate literacy, numeracy, life and employability skills.
	$300,000 over three years	West Australian Football Commission – South East Engagement Project (SEE Project)	The SEE Project targets at-risk Aboriginal youth living in the south east corridor of Perth by re-engaging them through football, securing training and employment opportunities, and implementing school engagement activities.
Family Violence	$13,000	Midwest Aboriginal Community Safety Plan	The Plan was developed in response to escalating levels of violence among the Aboriginal community of Geraldton in 2011. The Plan was devised by the Midwest Anti-Violence Action Group and Government and Non-Government agencies to empower the Aboriginal community to deal with causal factors of violence.
