

WATER — PERTH AND INTERCONNECTED SYSTEM — DROUGHTPROOFING —
MINISTER'S CLAIM

885. Mr D.J. KELLY to the Minister for Water:

I have a supplementary. Minister, we all know that it does not rain as much in Perth as it used to. I asked —
Several members interjected.

The SPEAKER: I do not know who is shouting out there, but stop it! Member for Bassendean, repeat your question.

Mr D.J. KELLY: We all know that it does not rain as much in Perth as it used to. Does the minister stand by her claim that she has droughtproofed Perth?

Ms M.J. DAVIES replied:

I have just outlined the fact that we have a variety of sources that we can rely on to make sure that when we turn a tap on in Western Australia, water comes out. We have climate-independent water sources that have come on in the last 10 years that mean I am very confident that we have the capacity to manage our water resources for the state of Western Australia.
