5784. Mr D.T. Redman to the Parliamentary Secretary representing the Minister for Environment; Disability Services; Electoral Affairs:

I refer to the eligibility criteria for an ACROD parking permit, which sees blind people in Western Australia being excluded from an ACROD parking permit as their blindness is firstly not recognised as a disability and secondly is not considered to cause a ‘mobility impairment’, and I ask:

- (a) Can the Minister outline why blind people are not assessed as having a disability, under the ACROD guidelines, when other government agencies consider it a disability;
- (b) Why does the state government believe those people who are blind are fully mobile;
- (c) As the Australian Council for the Rehabilitation of the Disabled Parking Program’s stated aim is “to support Western Australians with a significant mobility restriction to access the community”, is the state government’s policy supportive of blind West Australians who are trying to engage with the community and maintain their independence;

- (d) Can the Minister confidently state that it is safe for blind people with guide dogs to navigate getting in and out of their vehicle at busy car parks and roadways, where they may be some distance from shopping centre and medical service entrances;
- (e) Will the Minister approve parking permits for some of or all guide dog users, considering that there are only approximately 57 guide dog users in the state, which would result in an increase of ACROD parking permits by 0.066%; and
- (f) Will the Minister consider a review of the ACROD parking permit eligibility to be consistent with New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania and Victoria, and include those with severe visual impairment which affects their mobility, and if not why not?
