Mr President

As promised, I have some additional information to Hon Matt Benson-Lidholm's question without notice 888 to part (3) asked on Tuesday 6 November 2012, which I seek leave to have incorporated into Hansard.

In 2012, 165 people applied to mark either the English and/or Literature WACE examination. There were 11 people who had 3 or more years marking experience that did not apply to mark either examination. Every year at least 10% of new people are appointed to mark.
