QUESTION WITHOUT NOTICE
(Of which some notice has been given)

Tuesday, 18 November 2014

Hon Sue Ellery to the Minister for Education.

I refer to the audit or survey of school information communications technology (ICT) conducted a few months ago and as:

1. Will the Minister release the results of that survey and if not, why not?
 2. Given Minister Pyne's announcement on 27 October 2014 that Australian schools would be administering NAPLAN online in 2016, how will WA public schools be ready?

I thank the Hon Member for some notice of this question

1. Yes, I table the 2014 Computer Census results. The Department of Education conducts an annual Computer Census involving all Departmental worksites, including schools and central and regional offices. The Computer Census is undertaken to meet internal monitoring and planning requirements. The Census provides basic information on the usage, number, type and age of devices in all Departmental worksites.

2. The Education Council released a Communique following the 31 October 2014 meeting stating:

“that NAPLAN online will be implemented from 2017 on an opt-in basis over two to three years (no later than 2019). Implementation will be determined by jurisdictions, school systems and schools, based on readiness, to ensure an effective and efficient transition.”

The Department of Education, working in collaboration with the School Curriculum and Standards Authority (SCSA) has commenced planning for NAPLAN online. This includes substantial work already undertaken by the national Online Assessment Working Group, chaired by Western Australia and the Western Australian cross-sectoral Readiness Working Group, chaired by SCSA.

Introduction

The 2014 Computer Census used a custom designed Web application that was developed in 2005 and modified in 2014. It was launched on May 6, 2014 and the last school entered their data on August 26, 2014. Revision of the data was permitted until the date of this report.

The census was directed to Principals and Managers, who could either enter the answers themselves or delegate to one of their staff.

Questions in the Census

The census put 61 questions, each one asking the number of computers in certain categories. A copy of the sample questions is attached. All interpretation of the statistics presented should take into account the wording of those questions.

Definition of Standard Computers

In order to validly compare these statistics from year to year or with other States it is important to understand what type of computers are defined as STANDARD COMPUTERS. On the Census form, schools count their computers in 8 different categories. For these statistics, STANDARD COMPUTERS are those that are under 4 years old and are in :

category 1 Windows Desktop computers,
category 2 Windows Notebook computers, category 4 Apple Desktop computers or category 5 Apple Notebook computers.

Other equipment counted in categories 3, 6, 7 and 8 are Netbooks, Tablets and iPads that are NOT STANDARD COMPUTERS for these statistics.

Scope of the Census

The census was addressed to the 799 active government schools, camp schools, farm schools and behaviour centres and to the managers of 92 Central and Regional Office institution codes.

Results

The Computer Census system has options for generating:

- A summary report that gives totals for each question.
- A detailed report summarising the answers from each site.
- A data extract containing all the answers.

Copies of the above reports and the extract are attached. The raw extract file has been modified to include some formulas that provide totals for each column to assist with further analysis of the data.

The census gathered answers about computers that are within the standard specification and also about Apple iPads, Netbook, Tablet and Hybrid computers that are below the standard.

Counting both standard and non-standard computers, the 799 schools in the census report they have 24,316 computers used in schools for administration purposes and 2,155 servers. There were an additional 2,750 computers in Central and Regional offices.

The below standard equipment is not included in the following summaries.

These 799 schools report they have a total of 118,137 standard computers for students. Of these computers, 24% are over 4 years old and 18% were less than 12 months old. They reported an additional 30,246 tablets, iPads and Netbooks that are not included in standard ratio calculations.

The total of 118,137 standard computers for students consisted of 87,195 WINTEL devices (74%) and 30,942 Apple computers (26%).

The table below shows the number of standard computers for students counted this year and in the previous three years.

Number of standard computers for students

	2011	2012	2013	2014
Primary (PP to Y7)
All ages of computers	40,326	45,121	47,426	45,642
Computers up to 4 years old	27,550	29,894	30,792	31,415
Secondary (Y8 to Y12)
All ages of computers	49,316	69,440	69,083	72,495
Computers up to 4 years old	44,240	62,318	59,755	58,672
All schools
All ages of computers	89,642	114,561	116,509	118,137
Computers up to 4 years old	71,790	92,212	90,547	90,087

Computer to Student Ratios

For Semester 1, 2014 there were 179,603 primary and pre-primary students. There were 80,208 secondary students. These figures have been used to calculate the average number of students per standard computer in government schools for this year.

Ratios have been calculated for computers that meet the current hardware specification and no more than 4 years old. Also shown is the ratio using all standard computers, regardless of their age. The 30,246 tablets, iPads and Netbooks do not meet the standard and have not been included in the calculations.

The table below shows the comparative ratios of students per computer over this and previous years.

Average number of students per standard computer

	2011	2012	2013	2014
Primary (PP to Y7)
All ages of computers	4	3.7	3.7	3.9
Computers up to 4 years old	5.9	5.6	5.7	5.7
Secondary (Y8 to Y12)
All ages of computers	1.5	1.1	1.1	1.1
Computers up to 4 years old	1.7	1.2	1.3	1.4

Mobile and Satellite Telephones

Commencing in 2012, the Computer Census also asked all sites to answer three questions about how many mobile or satellite telephone services they had. Their answers are summarised below.

	2012	2013	2014
Number of Handsets owned (including unused spares)
For Schools	3,306	3,470	3,303
For Central and Regional Offices	924	842	800
Number of Mobile Services¹
For Schools	3,220	3,080	3,105
For Central and Regional Offices	941	929	888
Number of Services with Mobile Internet access²
For Schools	659	778	964
For Central and Regional Offices	397	493	580

Definitions:

- Schools and organisational units must count all computers in the eight listed categories that they own or lease.
- For this census, only computers acquired new after July 1, 2010 may be counted as being up to 4 years of age. If you can't find evidence of the age of a computer, then it must be counted as being over 4 years of age.
- Equipment that is temporarily out for repair must be counted if it is expected to be returned for use.
- Do not count computers that are part of the Notebooks for Teachers program.
- Do not count other types of computing device such as an iPod or iPod Touch.
- Do not count computers or mobile telephones that have been written off and waiting for disposal.
- Computers that are not used by students are to be counted as being used for administration.
- Schools that share computers between primary and secondary students can use a formula to apportion the number of computers for each group.
- Servers may include the Administration server, the Curriculum server, a Proxy server, a Library server or other devices that provide services or storage to the local network. Count the physical servers, but not any virtual servers running on them.
- For mobile internet services you must include Data services from your latest telephone bill for mobile telephones and Notebooks.
- For phone extensions count the number of extensions that the switchboard can transfer calls to. Non-school sites may leave the answer blank.
