Committee Activities

Introduction

This report summarises the activities and expenditure of the Economics and Industry Standing Committee (Committee) between 1 July 2020 and 30 June 2021 (the reporting period).

The Parliament was prorogued on 7 December 2020, and the Legislative Assembly dissolved on 29 January 2021. At that point the 40th Parliament ceased to exist. A State General Election was held on 13 March 2021 to elect the 41st Parliament.

This report therefore reflects the activities of the former committee in the final months of the 40th Parliament and the current committee in first few months of the 41st Parliament.

Summary of activities

During the reporting period, the committee:

- completed one inquiry (in the 40th Parliament):
  - inquiry into Western Australia’s economic relationship with the Republic of India
- tabled three reports (two in the 40th Parliament and one in the 41st Parliament):
  - Report 9—Annual Report 2019–20 (tabled 24 September 2020)
  - Report 10—Turning to India: Investing in our future (India inquiry) (tabled 19 November 2020)
  - Report 1—Turning to India: Investing in our future (re-tabling the findings and recommendations of Report 10 in the new Parliament) (tabled 17 June 2021)
- received a government response in relation to one inquiry (in the 40th Parliament):
  - inquiry into the emergence and impact of microgrids and associated technologies in Western Australia (microgrids inquiry)

- conducted a hearing about the economic impact of COVID-19 on the Western Australian economy (in the 40th Parliament).

The activities of the committee during the reporting period are summarised in Table 1.1 on the following page.

Reports and government responses

Report 10—Turning to India: Investing in our future

The former committee commenced the India inquiry in August 2019, tabled its report on 19 November 2020, and therefore the COVID–19 pandemic affected the content and management of this inquiry. The COVID–19 pandemic crystallised the importance of the Western Australia–India economic relationship, and the need to diversify the industries and markets that contribute to the State’s economy.

There is great potential for India to play a key role in diversifying Western Australia’s economy. India is one of the fastest growing economies in the world and is predicted to become the 3rd largest economy in the world by 2035.<sup>4</sup> There are many trade and investment synergies between Western Australia and India. India demands many of the goods and services Western Australia can provide.

The report noted that while Western Australia was an early mover in recognising the potential of the Indian market, establishing a trade office in India in 1996, over time, other Australian States—particularly Victoria and New South Wales—have achieved far greater trade and investment engagement with India.

The report highlighted the common misunderstanding that this trade relationship will follow the same development pathway as relationships with partners such as China, Japan, and Korea. It will not. The India trade dynamic is different, and the State Government must pursue India with a bespoke, proactive, and long term engagement strategy in order to grow this economic relationship.

The report covered complementary sectors in this relationship—including international education, tourism, minerals (including lithium), energy, renewable energy, mining and energy equipment, technology and services (METS and PETS), and agribusiness and agriservices—and each sector’s challenges, potential and opportunities in India.

The report contained 124 findings and 37 recommendations for the Government’s consideration. The report included recommendations aimed at:

- the contents of the (then) anticipated India Market Plan
- developing an Indian diaspora engagement strategy or plan, which could be part of the India Market Plan, to leverage the underused potential of the sizable Indian diaspora in Western Australia to grow the economic relationship
- initiatives to grow the economic relationship relating to each of the above noted sectors, and all sectors.

The Legislative Assembly prorogued before the Government provided a response to the report’s recommendations.

Report 8—Government response—Taking charge: Western Australia’s transition to a distributed energy future

The microgrids inquiry was the longest running and most challenging inquiry the former committee undertook during the 40th Parliament. It required members to become familiar with intricate scientific and engineering concepts and interrogate an extremely complex regulatory and policy environment.

The former committee’s final report in the microgrids inquiry, Report 8, Taking charge: Western Australia’s transition to a distributed energy future, tabled on 20 February 2020, made recommendations aimed at:

- enhancing the technical integration of distributed energy resources within the broader electricity network
- delivering the most efficient energy supply solutions throughout Western Australia
- reforming the legislative/regulatory environment to encourage industry participation
- protecting consumers, placing downward pressure on energy costs and ensuring benefits are shared across the community
- leveraging and commercialising the considerable skills and capabilities in the Western Australian energy industry.

Microgrids and associated technologies represent a significant opportunity to place downward pressure on energy costs, deliver value to Western Australian taxpayers through the businesses they own, generate new employment and commercial opportunities and take meaningful action to address the carbon intensity of our energy economy. During the course of the microgrids inquiry, the State Government introduced many initiatives relevant to the issues highlighted by the inquiry.

The State Government’s response to the committee’s final report, delivered on 12 August 2020, supported the former committee’s recommendations in full or in principle.

Report 1—Turning to India: Investing in our future—The findings and recommendations of Report No. 10 of the Economics and Industry Standing Committee in the 40th Parliament

Due to the prorogation of the Parliament on 7 December 2020, the previous government did not have the opportunity to respond to the recommendations of Report 10 of the former committee. Given the importance of these recommendations, the current committee resolved to bring them to the new government’s attention by tabling them in the 41st Parliament. The committee expects to receive a government response by 17 September 2021.

Other activities of the new committee in the 41st Parliament

The new committee held its inaugural meeting on 26 May 2021, at which the Chair and Deputy Chair were elected. Members were instructed in the procedural aspects of committee work.

Over the remaining three meetings in the reporting period, the current committee took time to familiarise itself with the work of previous committees in the past several parliaments. Committee members also discussed a range of topics with a view to finalising terms of reference for its first inquiry. The committee's first inquiry will be reported on in its 2021—22 annual report.

Financial Statement

The committee does not have its own formal budget and is funded out of the budget of the Legislative Assembly.
