[Supplementary Information No B52.]

Question: Dr A.D. Buti asked for details of the John Forrest Secondary College asbestos assessment and, if the assessment is that work needs to be done at the school, when that work will take place.

Answer: Based on the risk rankings listed in the Asbestos Containing Materials – Register for John Forrest Senior High School it is considered that the risk ranking to staff and students is low. Accordingly, no immediate work needs to be undertaken at present.

The Department of Education’s Asbestos Management Plan 2015 states that while asbestos containing materials are abundant in many schools and workplaces, their presence does not in itself constitute a risk as there must be some form of physical abrasion or chemical degradation of the materials in order to release asbestos fibres into the atmosphere. Studies show that, if ACM are in sound condition and left undisturbed, asbestos fibres are not released and do not pose health risks.

John Forrest Senior High School

(John Forrest Senior High School - 180 Drake Street , MORLEY)

This site was inspected and an assessment was made of the Asbestos Containing Materials (ACM’s), used during construction. This has been a visual inspection carried out by Dept. of Finance on behalf of the above client.

The following report is laid out showing the Site, Block and Strata Levels. The site is indicated at the top of the page e.g.: “Albany Senior High School” followed by the Inspection Date, Inspectors Name, and Building No./Name, Strata Level, Quantity (of material found) and Risk Ranking. The risk ranking is derived from a 1 to 9 matrix of Probability of Disturbance and Existing Condition, where the lower the number the higher risk to be managed.

SPECIAL NOTICE: GENERAL SITE RELATED ACM INFORMATION

In addition to components and materials listed in the ACM Register, the following items may also contain Asbestos and must therefore be treated as ACMs:

Element	Risk Ranking
Underground Asbestos Cement Fire Service Mains	9
Underground Asbestos Cement Water Pipes	9
Underground Asbestos Cement Fire Stormwater Pipes	9

Question: Mr D.A. Templeman asked: Does the department have a list of target schools at which increasing students' university aspirations will be a focus?

Answer: ICSEA is a nationally consistent scale of socio-educational advantage calculated by the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA) to enable fair, objective and meaningful comparisons of the schools' outcomes given the socio-educational circumstances of their students. As it uses data specifically about each school's students and circumstances, ICSEA is a better measure of the socio-education circumstances of schools than area-based socio-economic measures such as the Australian Bureau of Statistics Socio-Economic Indexes for Areas (SEIFA).

The table shows the current Western Australian public schools whose Index of Community Socio-Educational Advantage (ICSEA) scores in 2014 were in the three most disadvantaged deciles.

The Department of Education does not have the equivalent data for Western Australian non-government schools.

ICSEA deciles for 2014 are the most recent available data for Western Australian public schools (except community kindergartens and schools that opened after 2014).
