

LOCAL GOVERNMENT — AMALGAMATIONS

8. Mr D.A. TEMPLEMAN to the Minister for Local Government:

I have a supplementary question. Using the minister's terms, given that this disaster is his fault to a certain extent and he presided over it, why does he not do the honourable thing and resign?

Mr A.J. SIMPSON replied:

I will tell the opposition spokesperson for local government a good answer: how about the member asks the sector what it wants me to do, because that is the one that I believe!
