

LOCAL GOVERNMENT REFORM — CITY OF CANNING — MEMBER FOR RIVERTON'S COMMENTS

566. Mr D.A. TEMPLEMAN to the Minister for Local Government:

I have a supplementary question. Is the minister not embarrassed by his senior ministerial colleague undermining the Local Government Advisory Board's independence; and, in his words, is he kosher?

Mr A.J. SIMPSON replied:

In no way has he compromised the independence of the advisory board. He has been a good, strong local member working for and representing his community through this process.
