

QUESTION WITHOUT NOTICE

487. Hon JIM SCOTT to the parliamentary secretary representing the Minister for Planning and Infrastructure:

I refer to a question I was to ask yesterday in this House. Rather than getting an answer, I had a note put on my desk saying that the minister's office had just advised that the answer would not be available today, and asking that I defer the question until tomorrow. As he does not have an answer today, could the parliamentary secretary advise which tomorrow he is talking about?

Hon GRAHAM GIFFARD replied:

I might be able to tell the honourable member which tomorrow if he tells me which question he is referring to.
