- 3            (3) The Pay-roll Tax Assessment Act 2002 section 43 applies in 4            relation to this Act as if this Act were a pay-roll tax Act as 5            defined in the Glossary to that Act.

1                   Part 2 — Rebate of pay-roll tax on WA
2                                   indigenous wages

3   6.       Rebate of pay-roll tax on WA indigenous wages

4       (1)   An employer who was an eligible employer for an assessment
5           year commencing on or after 1 July 2012 is entitled to a rebate 6           of pay-roll tax on WA indigenous wages paid or payable during 7           the year, calculated in accordance with section 9.

8       (2)   Subject to section 12(2), the rebate to which an eligible 9           employer is entitled is to be paid by the Commissioner to the 10          employer.

11   7.       Eligible employer

12       (1)   An employer is an eligible employer for an assessment year 13          if —

14           (a)   the employer was registered during the whole or part of 15               the year; and 16           (b)   the employer employed an eligible employee during the 17               whole or part of the year; and 18           (c)   the employer meets the threshold requirement in 19               subsection (2); and 20           (d)   the employer, and the DGE of each group of which the 21               employer was a member during the year, have lodged all 22               returns for the year by 31 December following the end 23               of the year.

24       (2)   To meet the threshold requirement for the purposes of 25           subsection (1)(c), the employer must satisfy at least one of the 26           following —

27           (a)   if the employer was a non-group employer for the whole 28               of the year — the employer paid or was liable to pay
29               Australia-wide wages, less rebatable WA indigenous 30               wages, during the year of less than $15 million; s. 7

- 1 (b) if the employer was a non-group employer for only part
2 of the year — the employer paid or was liable to pay
3 Australia-wide wages, less rebatable WA indigenous 4 wages, during the period or periods, in the year, during 5 which the employer was a non-group employer of less 6 than $15 million pro rata;
- 7 (c) if the employer was a member of a particular group for 8 the whole of the year — the group paid or was liable to 9 pay Australia-wide wages, less rebatable WA 10 indigenous wages, during the year of less than 11 $15 million;
- 12 (d) if the employer was a member of a particular group for 13 only part of the year — the group paid or was liable to 14 pay Australia-wide wages, less rebatable WA 15 indigenous wages, during the period, in the year, during 16 which the group existed of less than $15 million 17 pro rata.
- 18 (3) In determining what are rebatable WA indigenous wages for the 19 purposes of subsection (2), the employer is to be treated as if the 20 employer were an eligible employer for the relevant period.
- 21 (4) In subsections (2) and (3) —
22 rebatable WA indigenous wages means WA indigenous wages 23 in respect of which a rebate is payable under section 6.
- 24 (5) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), an employer is to be taken 25 to have been registered during a month in an assessment year 26 if —
- 27 (a) under the Pay-roll Tax Assessment Act 2002
28 section 24(1) or (2), the employer was required to apply 29 for registration on the basis of the wages that the 30 employer paid or was liable to pay during the month; 31 and
- 32 (b) the employer has made an application for registration 33 under section 24 of that Act.

1   8.     Eligible employee

- 2       (1) If an employer receives or received an indigenous wages 3       subsidy in respect of a new employee, the employee is an 4       eligible employee at any time, while the employee is an 5       employee of the employer, during the 24 months commencing 6       on the day on which the employee first commenced 7       employment with the employer.
- 8       (2) An employee of an employer is a new employee if the 9       employee —
- 10       (a) commences employment with the employer on or after 11       1 July 2012; and
- 12       (b) was not an employee of the employer, or of any other 13       employer in a group of which the employer is a member, 14       at any time prior to the commencement of employment 15       referred to in paragraph (a).

16   9.     Calculation of rebate

- 17       (1) If an eligible employer was a non-group employer for the whole 18       of an assessment year, the rebate for the employer for the year is 19       equal to the amount of pay-roll tax that the employer was liable 20       to pay for WA indigenous wages paid or payable during the 21       year.
- 22       (2) If an eligible employer —
- 23       (a) was a non-group employer for only part of an 24       assessment year; and
- 25       (b) meets the threshold requirement in section 7(2)(b) for 26       the period or periods, in the year, during which the 27       employer was a non-group employer,
- 28       the rebate for the employer for the period or periods is equal to 29       the total amount of pay-roll tax that the employer was liable to 30       pay for WA indigenous wages paid or payable during the period 31       or periods.

- 1 (3) If an eligible employer was a member of a particular group for 2 the whole of an assessment year, the rebate for the group for the 3 year is equal to the amount of pay-roll tax that the group was 4 liable to pay for WA indigenous wages paid or payable during 5 the year.
- 6 (4) If —
- 7 (a) an eligible employer was a member of a particular group 8 for only part of an assessment year; and
- 9 (b) the group meets the threshold requirement in 10 section 7(2)(d) for the period, in the year, during which 11 the group existed,
- 12 the rebate for the group for the period is equal to the amount of 13 pay-roll tax that the group was liable to pay for WA indigenous 14 wages paid or payable during the period.
- 15 (5) If, in relation to an eligible employer who was a member of a 16 particular group for a period in an assessment year, a rebate is 17 calculated for the group, the employer is entitled to the same 18 proportion of the rebate as the amount of WA indigenous wages 19 paid or payable by the employer during the period bears to the 20 amount of WA indigenous wages paid or payable by the group 21 during the period, in the year, during which the group existed.
- 22 (6) The amounts to be used in calculating the rebate for an eligible 23 employer are to be taken from the most recent assessment of the 24 employer's or group's pay-roll tax liability for the assessment 25 year.

1       Part 3 — Overpayment and underpayment of rebate

2       10.       Overpayment of rebate

3       (1)   If the Commissioner is satisfied, whether as a result of an 4       assessment or otherwise, that —

5           (a)   a rebate has been paid to a person who was not entitled 6           to a rebate; or

7           (b)   a rebate has been overpaid to an eligible employer,

8       the person to whom the rebate was paid must repay the overpaid 9       amount except to the extent to which, within 30 days after the 10      day on which notice of the overpayment is issued under 11      section 15, the Commissioner credits the overpaid amount under 12      section 12(3).

13      (2)   Any amount to be repaid under subsection (1) must be paid to 14      the Commissioner —

15           (a)   within 30 days after the day on which notice of the 16           overpayment is issued under section 15; or 17           (b)   in accordance with a tax payment arrangement.

18      (3)   A reference in subsection (1) to a rebate paid, or overpaid, to a 19      person includes a reference to amounts credited under 20      section 12(2) in relation to the person.

21      11.       Underpayment of rebate

22      If the Commissioner is satisfied, whether as a result of an 23      assessment or otherwise, that an eligible employer has been paid 24      less than the amount of rebate to which the employer is entitled, 25      the Commissioner must pay, or credit under section 12(2), the 26      employer with the amount of the underpayment.

27      12.       Amounts of tax and rebate may be offset against each other

28      (1)   In this section —

- 1 (b) a liability to pay another amount under a taxation Act 2 (such as penalty tax, interest or costs) in connection with 3 that primary liability.
- 4 (2) Instead of paying a rebate, or any additional amount under 5 section 11, to an eligible employer, the Commissioner may 6 credit all or part of the rebate or amount against —
- 7 (a) any existing unpaid pay-roll tax liability of that 8 employer; or
- 9 (b) any overpaid amount of rebate to be repaid by the 10 person to the Commissioner under the Pay-roll Tax 11 Rebate Act 2010 or the Pay-roll Tax Rebate Act 2012.
- 12 (3) Instead of —
- 13 (a) refunding pay-roll tax overpaid by a person in 14 accordance with the Taxation Administration Act 2003 15 section 54(1); or
- 16 (b) paying a rebate under the Pay-roll Tax Rebate Act 2010, 17 or any additional amount under section 10 of that Act; or
- 18 (c) paying a rebate under the Pay-roll Tax Rebate Act 2012, 19 or any additional amount under section 10 of that Act,
- 20 the Commissioner may credit all or part of the refund, rebate or 21 amount against any overpaid amount (of rebate) otherwise to be 22 repaid by the person under section 10 of this Act.
