To Whom It May Concern:

Last week on Thursday 31/8/2017, I attended the Community Forum whereby concerns were raised in regards to FIFO tickets being pre-purchased in bulk at discounted prices.

However, having been contracted in the past, by a major international mining company, whereby I worked as an admin assistant for three month's for a shutdown, I was responsible for purchasing flights, car rentals, accommodation and meals for employees and contractors during the outage and I feel it necessary to inform your committee that the concept of pre-purchasing in bulk at discounted prices was not the process that I was asked to follow at the time. In fact, the process I was given, was that I purchased all flights, car rentals and accommodation through a travel agency at retail price with no discounts indicated at all.

Kind regards,
