Subject: Trade talks and bilateral relationship

Dear Sir / Madam,

Road map for the Australia and India have drawn attention by many in the areas of trade and commerce. Bilateral trade will promote relationship between the two on the possibilities of trade and commerce on tourism, education, manufacturing and Aviation and many other sectors in the industry which will benefit both the two countries immensely.

The areas that have potential for the business is the aviation sector, direct flight from Perth WA to New Delhi that will promote tourism on both the sides.

On arrival Visa, The other area is visa issued by the Australian Immigration on arrival which will further promote intercontinental travel to Australia. More and more people will choose to travel between the countries and will uphold tourism industry.

The education industry will also benefit as a result of the direct flight and online visa system allowing more students to come and study in WA.

India may prove to be the destination number one for Australian products manufactured in India or vice versa viz lithium batteries, steel products, wool export etc .

Australia may open the resource sector to Indian companies that would promote trade and supply of Coal, Iron Ore, LNG and other minerals. As a result more Jobs will be created in both the countries.

The opportunities are vast and countless but requires measures to initiate by the governments to carry out bilateral talks

We look forward for a better relationship between the two countries and initiation of communication on both the sides.

Thank you

With Regards

Rajesh Koul
