

I use marijuana for pain management, I have recently lost part of my thumb and my pain management of choice is marijuana.

I have tried the legal way to obtain this but with all the red tape and cost it is too hard and too expensive for myself so I grow my own for my own use.

In these times it gives me a piece of mind knowing that I have my medicine on hand, as we live rural and we do not know how supply chains will be affected from day to day
