Subject: Support for Dying with Dignity.

My wife is terminally ill after four years with ovarian cancer. She is now in hospital, bed bound, having not been able to eat for several weeks (with fully blocked bowel), and with her body shutting down. She is on morphine via an automated pump, which means she is drowsy for 22 out of 24 hours. However, her heart is strong, and she's still with us although her quality of life is non-existent.

The only thing she asks for is what she cannot have - release from this World!

My wife and I have always supported voluntary euthanasia - "they shoot horses don't they"!
