Hello

I am a devoted animal lover, and donator to services that proved help, care, medical aid and housing to animals in Perth and over the world.

I am also a tax payer and voter and Australian citizen.

RSPCA – WA – provides a much needed active approach to animal welfare, when no others can speak for the rights of animals in care, health, adequate housing and in humane treatment. Animals deserve the right to a warm bed, a decent meal and kindness as any other person would expect.

☐ If the RSPCA isn't doing that job to help us, then who else could be trusted with such an important role? Who else can go in and save an animal from abuse, neglect, starvation and pain and then hold those accountable for such atrocities? In a civilised society such things need to be addressed, educated and to those who commit them such vile things - punished.

I donate to the RSPCA, Cat Haven, sponsor a bear thru Save the bears Fund, sponsor a tiger thru WWF and donate to World Animal Protection project to save the cats and dogs in China that are farmed and stolen for human consumption.

I have also sponsored two children – one from Bangladesh and one from Chile both from the age of 5-6 years thru to finishing high school (just so you know I help the humans too)

I am writing this to you, in that in your inquiry into the operations of the RSPCA, that you see they are doing a wonderful job and do most of it with volunteers help and with donations from the community.

RSPCA have an independent and balanced approach to animal welfare and we don't want animal welfare ☐ compromised in our state.

Thank you for your time.
