To whom it may concern.

I am presenting this submission as a local business owner and operator. My company, Titan Engineering is an agricultural manufacturing company that has been operating in the town site of Kondinin, Western Australia, for over 30 years.

Titan Engineering relies on employing local people who live within our location. We cannot provide a fly in-fly out service. Many of our employees have families and all employees rely on amenities and services within our town. Many small businesses are already competing with larger regional towns and mining companies to attract future employees to come to our smaller populated regions. I strongly urge you to consider providing and maintaining our school bus services to and from the Kondinin Primary School. This service will enable people who are living working within our region, a better chance of supporting our local school and our local community.

With kind regards,

Peter Harvey
