Subject: Hunting on Recreational Lands

I am suggesting a bounty be placed on camels on public and leasehold lands.

The Federal Govt recently paid $20 million to have estimated 160,000 camels culled at a cost of $125 each.

I suggest you offer $50 per camel tail.

This bounty could be utilized by Aboriginals living in remote areas and provide valuable income to struggling station owners as well as recreational hunters.

The bounty would lower the cost to Government of culling camels and provide a continuous resection of camel numbers.
