REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON UNIFORM LEGISLATION AND STATUTES REVIEW

IN RELATION TO THE

INQUIRY INTO THE FORM AND CONTENT OF THE STATUTE BOOK

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 As at October 2012, the State Law Publisher website, built from the Parliamentary Counsel’s Office legislation database, lists 1,603 enactments on the statute book that are currently in force.¹ Of these, 855 are Acts and 748 are items of subsidiary legislation.

1.2 In 2001, there were 1,700 titles of legislation on the statute book, comprising 900 Acts and 800 items of subsidiary legislation.² Thus in an 11 year period, 97 enactments have been removed from the statute book.³

2 REFERENCE AND PROCEDURE

Reference

2.1 On 9 November 2011, the Committee activated Term of Reference 5.3(d) to independently “review the form and content of the statute book”.

Procedure

2.2 In late November 2011, the Committee contacted all Ministers advising them of Term of Reference 5.3(d) with a view to identifying obsolete statutes or provisions within statutes and removing these from the statute book.

2.3 The Ministers were provided with a list of the statutes for which each had responsibility. The list was obtained from the State Law Publisher’s website publication titled: Administration of Departments, Authorities, Statutes and Votes. That publication linked to another site titled Information about Acts with administering portfolios and public sector agencies (Portfolio order). The list there identifies all the Acts falling within a particular portfolio. The Committee provided a copy of those Acts to each Minister.

2.4 The Committee requested that in relation to each Act, Ministers advise by 31 January 2012:

(1) the purpose of the Act;

(2) whether the Act is necessary for the continued operation of the stated purpose;

(3) whether there are provisions in the Act that are obsolete and what harm would result if the provisions were rescinded;

(4) whether the Act is obsolete and what harm would result if it were rescinded.

2.5 The Committee further requested that the Ministers identify the associated delegated legislation made under each Act and:

(5) whether there are provisions in the regulations that are obsolete. If so, whether any harm would result if the regulations were removed; and

(6) whether the delegated legislation itself is obsolete. If so, whether any harm would result if the legislation was repealed.

2.6 By the due date, the Committee had received responses from 14 of the 17 Ministers with varying degrees of information about their portfolio enactments. By 9 July 2012, the three outstanding responses had been received, again with varying degrees of information.

2.7 After considering the first round of responses, the Committee re-contacted the Ministers to follow up those enactments that had been described as requiring further investigation. As at the date of this Report, the investigations into many of the enactments have still not been completed and it was this factor that ultimately slowed the Committee’s inquiry.

Outcomes

2.8 Twelve months on, the Committee reports the following results of its investigations.

- 48 Acts have been identified as obsolete and are listed in Appendix 1.
- 16 specific sections in Acts have been identified as obsolete and are listed in Appendix 2.
• 25 items of subsidiary legislation have been identified as obsolete and are listed in Appendix 3.

• 53 Acts have been identified as requiring further investigation and are listed in Appendix 4.

• Eight specific sections in Acts have been identified as potentially obsolete but require further investigation. These are listed in Appendix 5.

• One item of subsidiary legislation has been identified as requiring further investigation and is listed in Appendix 6.

3 IDENTIFYING THOSE MINISTERS THAT FAILED TO RESPOND TO THE INQUIRY

3.1 The Premier is the only Minister who has not provided a substantive response to the Committee’s Inquiry.

3.2 The Committee wrote to the Premier twice during the Inquiry process regarding his two portfolios. The Committee noted 39 Acts in his Premier portfolio and 75 in his State Development portfolio.

3.3 The Premier indicated in the only response the Committee received on 23 April 2012 that “a full and considered response will be provided to the Committee as soon as practicable.” However, no information has been received as at the date of this Report.

4 REPEAL DAY

4.1 The Premier first announced an initiative to hold an annual ‘Repeal Day’ in a Premier’s Statement on 21 February 2012. Repeal Day was described as an “opportunity for the Parliament to specifically focus on repealing or removing obsolete Acts, or irrelevant or superfluous boards and committees created by statute.”

4.2 Given his initiative, the Committee is disappointed with the Premier’s lack of a substantive response to review his own portfolio enactments and inform the Committee of the outcomes. However, the Committee values the Premier’s comment that “the Committee’s findings and recommendations will be of great interest.”

4.3 On 8 November 2012, the Premier announced the first annual Repeal Day bill that would, in the State Agreements Legislation Repeal Bill 2012, be dedicated to the removal of five superseded Acts. According to the Long Title, these are Acts that give effect to agreements between the State and other parties dating back to 1952.

4.4 Of this first Repeal Day, the Premier described the concept as being similar to the ‘Corrections Calendar’ procedure of the United States House of Representatives. The Premier also stated that the findings of the Committee are to be taken into account in the operation of Repeal Day.

5 IMPERIAL STATUTES

5.1 In October 1994, the Western Australian Law Reform Commission (Commission) published Report Project No 75 on United Kingdom Statutes in Force in Western Australia (WALRC Report). That project sought to evaluate those United Kingdom statutes that were still in force in Western Australia and recommended which of these statutes should be:

- repealed;
- repealed and re-enacted in whole or in part;
- preserved because of their historical interest; or
- preserved pending further review.

5.2 The Commission recommended that:

most United Kingdom statutes which have been inherited should cease to be in force in Western Australia. Exceptions are statutes of historical interest or statutes where a reform of the law in the area has been undertaken or is needed; and statutes which contain provisions which are still relevant in Western Australia. Statutes which contain principles still relevant in this State should be repealed and re-enacted by the Parliament of Western Australia.

5.3 Mr Walter Munyard, Parliamentary Counsel, said the WALRC Report was submitted to the then Attorney General in 1994.

6 The five Acts are the (1) Broken Hill Proprietary Company Limited Agreements (Variation) Act 1980; (2) Broken Hill Proprietary Company's Integrated Steel Works Agreement Act 1960; (3) Broken Hill Proprietary Steel Industry Agreement Act 1952; (4) Iron and Steel (Mid West) Agreement Act 1997; and (5) Nickel Refinery (Western Mining Corporation Limited) Agreement Act 1968.

7 Premier’s Ministerial Statement, 8 November 2012.

8 Western Australian Law Reform Commission, Report Project No 75 on United Kingdom Statutes in Force in Western Australia, October 1994, p4.
The Commission’s recommendations dealt with over 200 imperial Acts. Work commenced the following year on implementing the recommendations of that report.9

5.4 In 1995 Cabinet approved the drafting of legislation to implement the WALRC Report. Parliamentary Counsel prepared a first draft, the Imperial Acts (Law Reform) Bill, and requested comments from the Commission. In August 1996, representatives of the Commission, the Solicitor-General and Parliamentary Counsel met with the then Attorney General to discuss the proposed legislation. However, no further action was taken.10

The Statutes (Repeals and Minor Amendments) Bill 2006

5.5 The first statutory glimpse of the WALRC Report recommendations being implemented came when the Statutes (Repeals and Minor Amendments) Bill 2006 was introduced. According to the Leader of the House, that bill was earlier introduced into the Parliament in 2004 but lapsed in 2005 due to the State Election.11 In 2006 the bill was introduced again, then adjourned and referred to the former Committee for scrutiny.12

5.6 The former Committee scrutinised that bill in 2007. Part 4 included provisions to either repeal or repeal provisions of eight imperial Acts. The former Committee tabled its Report on 16 October 2007 noting that:

Part 4 repeals a number of imperial acts, or provisions of imperial acts, that either have been superseded by other legislation or are now obsolete.

Part 4 also repeals three imperial acts that have for a long time been treated as having been impliedly repealed by Western Australian acts but have in fact never been expressly repealed.13

5.7 The bill did not progress.

11 Hon Norman Moore, MLC, Leader of the House, on behalf of the Minister for Transport, Western Australia, Legislative Council, Parliamentary Debates (Hansard), 12 November 2008, p157a-157a.
12 That committee was also called the Standing Committee on Uniform Legislation and Statutes Review. At the time it was under the Chairmanship of Hon Simon O’Brien MLC.
13 Hon Kim Chance MLC then Leader of the House, Minister Representing the Premier, Minister for Public Sector Management, Western Australia, Legislative Council, Parliamentary Debates (Hansard), 18 October 2006, p7143.
The Statutes (Repeals and Miscellaneous Amendments) Bill 2008

5.8 The Statutes (Repeals and Minor Amendments) Bill 2006 (above) was renamed as the Statutes (Repeals and Miscellaneous Amendments) Bill 2008 and introduced into the Legislative Council on 12 November 2008. It was not referred to the Committee for scrutiny and report. The Leader of the House said:

It is usual practice for omnibus bills to be referred to the Standing Committee on Uniform Legislation and Statutes Review; however, given that this bill has already been scrutinised by this committee in great detail, it would be duplicative for this to again occur, when the majority of amendments are in accordance with the committee’s recommendations.

5.9 Relevantly, the bill omitted the clauses concerning the eight imperial Acts.

5.10 In December 2008, Mr Walter Munyard, Parliamentary Counsel, told the Committee that:

When the 2008 bill was prepared it was considered that the provisions affecting the 8 imperial Acts would be better incorporated into the law reform exercise, which we understood had progressed during the previous 2 years. That is why the provisions were not included in the 2008 bill.

5.11 In July 2009, the Committee wrote to the Attorney General requesting an update on implementing the recommendations of the WALRC Report. The Attorney General said he was proceeding with the reform project and would introduce the necessary legislation in the 2010 Autumn Session of Parliament. However, that did not occur.

5.12 During the course of this Inquiry, the Committee twice requested an update on the implementation of the recommendations in the WALRC Report. To date, there has been no response. However, three imperial enactments listed in the WARLC Report were identified and confirmed as obsolete by the Attorney General in his response to 21 imperial enactments within his own portfolio.

5.13 It is now 18 years since the WALRC Report was published.

6 STATUTES NOT YET PROCLAIMED

6.1 The Committee noted that between 1970 and 2012, 70 statutes with Royal Assent have still not been proclaimed. A list of these statutes was obtained from the Parliamentary Counsel Office Access Database. The statutes are listed in Appendix 7. That list provides details of legislation that:

- has not yet commenced;
- is either awaiting proclamation, coming into operation on the commencement of another Act; or
- commences on a specified date.

6.2 Of the 70 statutes, 21 have not been substantively proclaimed other than sections 1 and 2. These two sections are the short title and commencement. The Committee is of the view that if there is no intention to proclaim these statutes, they should be repealed.

7 CONCLUSIONS

7.1 From its investigations the Committee is of the view that a significant number of enactments could be removed from the statute book in an omnibus bill. The Committee therefore makes the following recommendations.

17 These are the Factors (1823) (Imp), Factors (1825) (Imp) and Factors (1842) (Imp) identified by Hon Michael Mischin MLC, Attorney General, 5 September 2012. Of these, the WARLC Report at p81 states: “The statutes 4 George IV chapter 83 (1823) and 6 George IV chapter 94 (1825) together with the Factors Act 1842 (UK) (5 & 6 Victoria chapter 39) (adopted by 7 Victoria No 13 (1844)) and 29 Vict No 5 (1865) and 42 Vict No 3 (1878) govern the law relating to factors in Western Australia. In the United Kingdom the Factors Acts of 1823 and 1825, together with further Factors Acts of 1842 and 1877, were repealed by the Factors Act 1889. This statute, which is still in force, consolidated and to some extent extended the earlier Acts. The law is in need of review: it is unsatisfactory that the law in this State is based on inherited and adopted United Kingdom statutes which have been subsequently repealed in the United Kingdom. Pending a review, the 1823 and 1825 statutes should be preserved.” According to the Parliamentary Counsel Office Access Database, there are only 21 Imperial Acts currently in force. Recommendation 1: The Committee recommends that the Government introduce an omnibus bill that includes the obsolete enactments identified in Appendices 1, 2 and 3.

Recommendation 2: The Committee recommends that the Government conduct a review of those enactments identified in Appendices 4, 5 and 6 as requiring further investigation in order to determine if they are in fact, obsolete.

Recommendation 3: The Committee recommends that the Government’s next omnibus bill include those obsolete imperial enactments identified by the Western Australian Law Reform Commission’s Report Project No 75 on United Kingdom Statutes in Force in Western Australia in 1994.

Recommendation 4: The Committee recommends that the Government’s next omnibus bill repeal those substantively unproclaimed Acts that they do not intend to proclaim.

7.2 The Committee advises the Legislative Council that until recommendation two is undertaken and the outcomes reported the Committee will be unable to conclude its Inquiry. In the meantime, the Committee commends this Interim Report to the House.

22 Letter from Hon Troy Buswell MLA, Minister for Transport, Legislation under the Transport Portfolio, 30 January 2012. The Minister said “our understanding is this Act has no force.” Pursuant to section 6, the Commonwealth’s Sea Dumping Act applies throughout Australia. Section 9 of the Commonwealth Act provides that the Commonwealth Minister may, if she/he is satisfied that the law of a State makes provision for giving effect to the Protocol on the Sea Dumping Convention in relation to coastal waters of that State, make declaration that limits the operation of the Commonwealth Act in relation to the relevant State and its coastal waters. The declaration is required to be in the form of a Notice published in the Commonwealth Gazette. The Commonwealth Minister has never made a declaration pursuant to section 9 in relation to our Act. As such it appears that our Act has no legal effect and the Commonwealth Act instead applies in WA’s coastal waters. Repeal would not have any foreseeable adverse impact as the Commonwealth Act would continue to apply. However, this should not be done without consideration as to whether the State Government wishes to pursue a declaration under the Commonwealth Act.

23 Letter from Hon Troy Buswell MLA, Minister for Transport, Attachment 3, Emergency Services Acts, 3 October 2012. The Committee noted that this Act is not on the SLP “Live Acts” list and would not be as consequential provisions enactments fall away when made.

\(^{77}\) Letter from Hon Terry Waldron MLA, Minister for Racing and Gaming, Statutes under the Racing and Gaming Portfolio, 19 January 2012. 84 Letter from Hon Troy Buswell MLA, Minister for Transport, Legislation under the Transport Portfolio, 30 January 2012. The Minister said regulations 47AA, 47AB and 47CA and references to those provisions in regulation 47F) are spent provisions.

85 Ibid. The Minister said that as the Act under which these are made has no force, these must be obsolete. But to note, that pursuant to section 6, the Commonwealth’s Sea Dumping Act applies throughout Australia. Section 9 of the Commonwealth Act provides that the Commonwealth Minister may, if she/he is satisfied that the law of a State makes provision for giving effect to the Protocol on the Sea Dumping Convention in relation to coastal waters of that State, make declaration that limits the operation of the Commonwealth Act in relation to the relevant State and its coastal waters. The declaration is required to be in the form of a Notice published in the Commonwealth Gazette. The Commonwealth Minister has never made a declaration pursuant to section 9 in relation to our Act. As such it appears that our Act has no legal effect and the Commonwealth Act instead applies in WA’s coastal waters. Repeal would not have any foreseeable adverse impact as the Commonwealth Act would continue to apply. However, this should not be done without consideration as to whether the State Government wishes to pursue a declaration under the Commonwealth Act.

86 Ibid. The Minister said the Australian Maritime College referred to there no longer exists. The Minister said this should be updated, not repealed at this time and will be repealed as part of the National Reforms for Commercial Vessel Safety agreed by COAG in 2011 and expected to come into operation in 2013.

87 Ibid. The Minister said the certificates are no longer issued by the Department but will be repealed as part of the National Reforms for Commercial Vessel Safety agreed by COAG in 2011 and expected to come into operation in 2013.

¹⁰⁶ Letter from Hon Rob Johnson MLA, former Minister for Police, 23 January 2012. The former Minister said “these are no longer relevant as the sections of the Police Act 1982 upon which they are based have since been deleted. APPENDIX 5

SPECIFIC SECTIONS IN ACTS IDENTIFIED AS POTENTIALLY OBSOLETE BUT REQUIRE FURTHER INVESTIGATION

1. Division 4, Part II of the Western Australian Marine Act 1982.\textsuperscript{162} Also some of the sections in Part V- Carriage of Dangerous Goods.\textsuperscript{163} Also references to International Conventions in Part IV.\textsuperscript{164}

2. Part 9 of the Electricity Corporations Act 2005.\textsuperscript{165}

3. Schedule 3 to the Electricity Industry Act 2004.\textsuperscript{166}

5. The Long Title of the Fuel, Energy and Power Resources Act 1972.\textsuperscript{168}

6. Several transitional and savings provisions in the Acts Amendment and Repeal (Courts and Legal Practice) Act 2003.\textsuperscript{169}

\textsuperscript{162} Letter from Hon Troy Buswell MLA, Minister for Transport, Legislation under the Transport Portfolio, 30 January 2012. The Minister said this Division deals with seaman’s wages which are now dealt with in industrial relations.

\textsuperscript{163} Ibid. The Minister said these “may” be obsolete, for example the Dangerous Goods Act 1961 referred to in section 91((1)(a) has been repealed.

\textsuperscript{164} Ibid. The Minister said these “may” be obsolete.

\textsuperscript{165} Letter from Hon Peter Collier MLC, Minister for Energy, 31 January 2012. The Minister said it deals with transitional provisions for succession for Western Power Corporation to the new corporations and “may” be obsolete. Further legal analysis and stakeholder consultation is required to be certain.

\textsuperscript{166} Ibid. The Minister said the Schedule is a transitional matter. However, further legal analysis and stakeholder consultation is required to be certain.

\textsuperscript{167} Ibid. The Minister said Part 3 may be considered to be obsolete as it provides transitional provisions for succession from the SEC to Western Power Corporation. However, further legal analysis and stakeholder consultation is required to be certain.

\textsuperscript{168} Ibid. The Minister said because it does not account for the deletion in 1975 of Part II (sections 5-40) which provides for the establishment and functions of the Fuel and Power Commission of WA and the Fuel and Power Advisory Council.

\textsuperscript{169} Letter from the Attorney General, Hon Michael Mischin MLC, 5 September 2012. The Attorney General said: “Depending on whether or not the transitional provisions have any continuing effect there would appear to be two possible courses of action. If they no longer have any effect the provisions will have to be repealed as they will otherwise remain on the statute book indefinitely. If they do continue to have effect they could be inserted into the main legislation. The latter would have the advantage that the Acts Amendment and Repeal (Courts and Legal Practice) Act 2003 could be removed from the State Law Publisher website and the transitional is in the statute to which it applies and not the Acts Amendment and Repeal (Courts and Legal Practice) Act 2003. It might be appropriate to obtain State Solicitor Office advice.”
7. Sections 6 and 7 of the Civil Procedure Act 1833 (IMP).\textsuperscript{170}

8. Several transitional and savings provisions in the Criminal Property Confiscation (Consequential Provisions) Act 2000.\textsuperscript{171}

\textsuperscript{170} Letter from the Attorney General, Hon Michael Mischin MLC, 5 September 2012. The Attorney General said: “Sections 6 and 7 seem obsolete. Subject to confirmation by the State Solicitor Office the provisions could be repealed.”

\textsuperscript{171} Ibid. The Attorney General said: “All the provisions appear to remain relevant, however, the question needs to be asked whether any of the savings provisions have been exhausted by the time that has elapsed. If there are any provisions that remain in operation it might be possible to transfer them to the Criminal Property Confiscation Act 2000 so that they are all in that main Act. This would mean that the Criminal Property Confiscation (Consequential Provisions) Act 2000 could be taken off the database.”

ONE PROVISION IN SUBSIDIARY LEGISLATION IDENTIFIED AS REQUIRING FURTHER INVESTIGATION

1. Regulation 3(2)(a) of the Marine Navigational Aids Regulations 1985.172

172 Letter from Hon Troy Buswell MLA, Minister for Transport, Legislation under the Transport Portfolio, 30 January 2012, p1. The Minister said “An examination of the regulation is required to determine whether it is a spent provision.”
