Thank you for your letter of 25 June 2018 regarding access to specific NSW SMART drumline trial data for officers of the Western Australian Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development (DPIRD).

The NSW Government recognises and is grateful for the support that the WA Government has provided during the testing and trialling of new technologies as part of our Shark Management Strategy. Our network of 21 VR4Gs was started with the two units provided by WA, which the NSW Government subsequently replaced with two new units and we continue to value the communication support provided by WA to transmit detections of tagged sharks to the NSW community.

The Strategy is underpinned by a large body of research, and that research and data collection is an ongoing process over the course of the Strategy into 2020. Before all data is used, analysed, and released it must undergo a thorough Quality Assurance/Quality Control (QA/QC) process.

Key details of the animals caught and released in our SMART drumline trials, including the location, date, time, size, sex and status of the animals have undergone that QA/QC process. Please find enclosed.

The tagging dataset is very large, as we are currently tracking 276 White Sharks, 38 Tiger Sharks and 61 Bull Sharks using our network of 21 VR4Gs and more than 50 seabed acoustic receivers. Currently the team of scientists working on the Strategy are collating and applying the QA/QC processes as we prepare to analyse those data.

We are also currently developing a website that will allow us to provide information about our satellite tagged sharks in real-time. The most up to date information that has been through the QA/QC is enclosed.

The trials of SMART drumlines in NSW are still underway and data collection on the performance of SMART drumlines and their refinement as a mitigation tool is an ongoing process until the trials are completed. What we can say at this point is that the operating procedures applied during our trials have achieved 99 per cent survival of all animals caught on the SMART drumlines.

A critical part of our shark mitigation program on the North Coast has been extensive community engagement. This has included surveys by phone and online, as well as regular stakeholder group engagement and community drop-in stands. We have seen the devastating impact of shark attacks on this community and the importance of bringing them along with us as we trial a range of shark mitigation technologies. It is the people of Ballina, Lennox Head and Evans Head who have to live with the social and economic impacts of shark attacks, and not us the politicians, so it is important we listen to them and put forward the solutions they want. Our recent community surveys, conducted a few months ago, indicated the majority of residents support SMART drumlines. Since you are considering whether SMART drumlines are worth the expense, I would suggest surveying your own communities to see their views on shark mitigation. We can provide assistance with survey design and would be happy to put our shark scientists in touch with your department to facilitate this.

While some of the raw data we discussed is incomplete and has yet to undergo QA/QC, the NSW Government remains eager to assist the WA Government in their decision about testing and trialling SMART drumlines in WA waters. To continue our strong relationship and provide the necessary support, I recommend that a DPIRD officer contact Dr Natalie Moltschaniwskyj, Director Fisheries Research in DPI Fisheries, on (02) 4916 3854, with a list of research questions and metrics that you deem will provide WA with the information they need about the effectiveness of any possible application of SMART drumlines in WA. The NSW scientists will then be able to prioritise the QA/QC process and analysis of the data to calculate those metrics and answer those research questions to inform the WA Government’s decision.

Thank you again for your interest in this matter. I trust this information is of assistance.

Yours sincerely

06 AUG 2018

The Hon Niall Blair MLC
Minister for Primary Industries
Minister for Regional Water
Minister for Trade and Industry
