'The Key to your House' Study Guide: Explanatory Notes

The Key to Your House is an engaging thirteen part documentary series that opens the door to the Parliament of Western Australia. All episodes explore the different facets of the home of our state's democracy and provide accessible entry points for student reflection, discussion and project work.

Each episode can be applied to numerous units within the Western Australian mandated Humanities and Social Sciences curriculum spanning Civics and Citizenship, History and Geography streams from the following two-year bands: Years 5/6, 7/8 and 9/10. To assist as a quick reference point for you to map to the curriculum, specific unit descriptors are suggested at the beginning of each individual study guide, although these are not prescriptive.

Teaching Tips: These study guides are most effective when used in conjunction with the TGT Cooperative Learning model. Prior to watching these episodes divide your class into teams of four with a designated scribe and distribute one Student Activity Sheet per group.

Ensure each group has a variety of academic levels to optimise equitable participation. To encourage active viewing, direct your students to collectively find the answers within each episode. Reinforce acquired knowledge by running a class quiz between each team at the conclusion of each episode.

A focus question and/or further enquiry based learning task can be found at the end of each set of questions to assist in further exploration of the episode's main themes.
